warning, this may tell you way too much about my personal bullshit.

Normally, I'm not a person to bitch and complain about things going on in my life. I've always learned to live with it, that's just the way things are.

Last night, I come home, after getting my mom's car fixed, which i paid for ($460). To my family talking about me in the kitchen. They basically want me out of here. I don't have any place to go, who wants to take in someone with 2 children. I had just spent all the extra money I had to fix my mom's car for her. I'd go to a hotel, but I don't think that's exactly the best environment for my children. I don't have a regular full time job, I work when I can. No guaranteed paychecks, so no one is going to let me get a place. Not to mention that fact that a year ago exactly, my so called best friend, who I was nice enough to sublet my apartment to, decided that it would be cool not to pay the rent, and not tell me. So I got evicted, lost all my furniture and some very important papers. It would have been nice if she had told me that she got evicted or couldn't pay the rent. Obviously I'm a horrible judge in character.

Then some bad things happened in a relationship I was in, and I decided it was in my best interest to leave the guy I was with. which resulted in a custody suit for my son. Now he is saying he doesn't think the baby is his. Funny how someone who says they love you and want to marry you, obviously never believed you the WHOLE DAMN TIME YOU WERE WITH THEM! what utter and complete bullshit.

I still can't find a job that will:

- a. pay the bills if i was to live on my own
- b. pay for childcare, with two kids it would be easily at least $200/wk.

Obviously I'm not getting child support, or that wouldn't be an issue.

Now of course I spend all day fighting with my cable modem, so that my daughter can play on her favorite website. Listening to, mommy fix it, mommy it doesn't work. ARGH!!

Not to mention the fact that it would be nice to have a shoulder to cry on or someone to lean on, but that isn't gonna happen. Me and dating never really works. I have a hard time trusting people. After getting screwed over most of my life I have become rather bitter. Everytime I think I have met someone that would make a great friend, they end up not being so great.

Alright, had enough of hearing my own bitching...

see ya

So, I put off opening my mail from the lawyer until today, didn't want to hear anything bad. I find out that I apparently missed a court date I specifically asked if I needed to go to. They are going to be bitched out big time when they get back to the office. I find out now I have to pay for half a paternity test that I know the results of. Stupid fucker says I was living with another guy when I got pregnant. WRONG, he moved in a month AFTER I got pregnant. Sometimes you have to have roommates to pay bills you know.

I HATE SOME FUCKING PEOPLE.

Veronica - Churchboard Publications.txt

Now off to find a job so I can pay off the lawyer, and pay for half a paternity test. I'm going to make sure his fucking ass pays big time for this shit. Stupid fucking lawyers must die.

<http://www.thechurchboard.com/viewtopic.php?TopicID=11401>

Honey this has nothing at all to do with money. This is about him denying the fact that he is the father of my son. The paternity test will prove all, and he can kiss my ass. I am royally pissed because he says I slept with someone else while I was with him. How wrong he is.

Anyway, it's not about money, and I'm half tempted to not get the paternity test done, because he basically denied that he was the father, so if no test is done, his rights are gone. He won't be able to see him for the rest of his life or anything. That is what he's asking for.

Anyway, I'll show anyone that papers from the lawyer if you don't believe me.

So my son has the flu, he's too young to have the flu. Every 5 minutes I have to give him a teaspoon of gerber electrolite. I feel so bad for the little guy.

sniffles

I hate it when babies are teething, and they don't wanna sleep. I don't have the heart to dope him up, but man I'm sleepy!

<http://www.thechurchboard.com/viewtopic.php?TopicID=18866>

So I have this friend, who recently got married. This guy still wants to party, still wants to sleep around, and isn't ready for this commitment. I just wonder what was the point of actually going through with the vows? Why promise yourself to someone when you aren't ready? I could understand if they had an open relationship or something. They don't, she has no idea that he sleeps around (maybe she does), and he doesn't let her know.

I think people need to grow and explore before making such a commitment to someone. If you haven't explored sexually, or mentally, you shouldn't settle down. I think that's a leading cause for divorce, you need to know yourself, and what you are into. I'd say slut around yes, because that way you don't think of all the things you "missed" when you got married. There are many men that have women on the sides, some they pay for and some they don't, because they have this "need" to spread their "love."

What is the point of commitment if you aren't true to the person you say you love and will love forever. What kind of love is that. I want someone who I can talk to, if I feel like I want or need to go somewhere else for sex, I want to be able to tell the person I'm with. Communication, respect, trust, and love. Where did all of that go?

<http://www.thechurchboard.com/viewtopic.php?TopicID=19162>

So I was taking a nap with my kids the other day. And my son wakes up and decides to wake me. The thing is, he decides to stab me in the eye with a fork.

Veronica - Churchboard Publications.txt

And guess what, this damn fork ended up giving me an infection. So now, I have this shitty infection on my eye. I think it's like infantigo or something. IT HURTS and looks nasty Someone fix me, do we have a dr around here?

I really hate it when my baby is sick and I don't get paid until friday, so I can't take him to the damn doctor!

ARGH...

Poor little guy

He's so sick, the only way he'll rest is if I'm holding him and laying down. He was up almost all night, and won't eat.

UGH!! I feel like a horrible mom!

how the hell do you teach a kitten how to poo in the box he's not using the box

he goes anywhere but the box

if i don't get this fixed i'll have to get rid of him help please!!

(1 year olds tend to play with cat poo, so I really need ideas!)

<http://www.thechurchboard.com/viewtopic.php?TopicID=23940>

So apparently my kids got head lice from the daycare, and I've spent the last freaking week trying to get rid of it. I take them to the babysitter and get told "You have to take them home and treat them again, cuz they have it still."

WTF?

This is so gross.

Veronica - Churchboard Publications.txt

So who else has had this problem and how the hell did you get it resolved. I've done EVERYTHING I was told to do and it WON'T go away.

ARGH.

I hate missing work because of this too!!!
